

Infrastructure Week

2019 Participation Guide

The 7th annual Infrastructure Week is May 13 to 20, 2019.

What is it? Infrastructure Week is a national week of education and advocacy that brings together American businesses, workers, elected leaders, and everyday citizens to host events, tour infrastructure projects, and get involved in the press and on social media to highlight the state of our nation's infrastructure – roads, bridges, rail, ports, airports, water and sewer systems, the energy grid, and more. United around the message that America must #BuildForTomorrow, participants make clear that the infrastructure choices we make today will have profound impacts on our future.

Who participates? Our nonpartisan Steering Committee and more than 400 Affiliates host events, drive media attention, and educate citizens and policymakers on the critical importance of infrastructure to America's economic competitiveness, security, job creation, and in the daily lives of every American. As a business, union, non-profit, government, or an individual who depends on infrastructure, you have an important story to tell.

Here are four simple ways to participate and spread the message that our nation wants to #BuildForTomorrow:

- 1 Get started! Visit infrastructureweek.org/joinus for ideas and materials to prepare for the week, to sign up as an Affiliate, or to tell us what you are planning.
- 2 Share on social media. Check out infrastructureweek.org/shareables or find your own creative ways to get the word out about infrastructure projects or issues in your community. Remember to tag #BuildForTomorrow!
- 3 Plan or Attend an event. Starting in early March, visit infrastructureweek.org/calendar to search through nearly 100 upcoming events in Washington, D.C. or in your local community.
- 4 Write an op-ed or blog post. Visit infrastructureweek.org/toolkits to download and personalize our blog post/op-ed template. Use this platform to highlight the importance of infrastructure in your community.

Infrastructure Week is proudly led by our Steering Committee

U.S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

